EMPIRE STORE.
DRY GOODS DEPOT & HEAD QUARTERS FOR BARGAINS!!
THIS Store at No. 4 East Water street, directly opposite to Shepard & Bonnell's. The subscriber would call the attention of Country Merchants and others to his stock of STAPLE & FANCY DRY GOODS, which are all new and well adapted to the Western Trade—purchased by the package of the Commission Houses in New York and Boston, and which he pledges himself to sell at wholesale as cheap for cash as can be purchased of the jobbers in New York City.
The subscriber will receive in a few days a large addition to his present stock, which will make it complete—and would further say to "ALL" that visit this place for the purpose of buying goods or replenishing their stocks, to "CALL" and look at our goods and prices, as they will surely meet with inducements that have not been heretofore offered west of New York City. M. C. CHURCHILL.

HARDWARE IRON, NAILS &c.
NAZRO & KING are now receiving their Spring stock of heavy and shelf hardware, to which they will constantly be making additions. We are now able to offer a complete assortment of Goods in our line, to which we would call the attention of all who may wish to purchase for cash. Our stock having been laid in before the advancement, we feel confident that we can make such prices as will insure a ready sale. Having made arrangements with Eastern Hardware Manufacturers from whom we obtain our supplies, we can make it an object for country merchants to buy of us, and thus save them the disadvantage of buying an over stock. We shall endeavor to keep on hand a full stock of Tools and Farming Utensils, and will furnish at short notice, any amount of building material that may be wanted. Having adopted the system of serving all at one price, those who may favor us with orders, can rely on our doing us well by them as if they were here themselves.

THE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE
COMPANY of New-York, No. 44 Wall street.—This Company, since its organization on the 1st February, 1843, (two years) has issued 1200 policies. The total am't received for premiums and interest on investments, $121,687; yielding a net capital of $97,273, after paying all its losses and expenses. This accumulated capital is rapidly increasing by the 2d and 3d years' premiums now becoming due, and by a vastly extended and growing business. The eminent success and prosperity of this institution has placed it on a strong position. Its capital and resources are now so ample as to inspire confidence in its ability, and insure safety to its members.
The company is organized upon the most improved principles of Mutual Life Insurance, and offers very great advantages to whole Life Policies, or insurances for short periods, if continued till death; without incurring any personal responsibilities. At the expiration of every five years from the date of the first policy, (which will make the first division of profits be on the 1st of February, 1848) the whole of the profits will be divided among the insured in proportion to the amount of premiums paid by them, and will remain at their credit as an accumulating fund, payable at the decease of the life insured.
The progress of this institution thus far gives strong grounds for anticipating large dividends to its members at the stated periodical settlement, and equal to those of the most distinguished and successful Mutual Companies in Great Britain, where it is well known immense profits have been made.
The importance and utility of Life Insurance is becoming a matter of deep interest with all classes of the community and is now extensively much of public attention, and beginning to strike favorable impressions as to the great benefits to be derived from it; as the published monthly statement of those insured by the company conclusively show.
Merchants and traders, officers, civil, military and naval; clergymen and professional men generally; clerks, and persons in every station in society, may secure to their families in the event of death, a comfortable support and independence, by making, with this institution, a small annual investment for an insurance on their lives.
Pamphlets, explaining the principles, and showing the advantages of Life Insurance, with the rates of premiums and forms of application, may be obtained at the office of this company, No. 44 Wall street, or any of its Agents.

WHIG NOMINATION.

FOR DELEGATE TO CONGRESS

JAMES COLLINS

OF IOWA COUNTY.

☞ Mr. Downer returned yesterday morning, having been confined by indisposition two weeks in Michigan, and will resume the editorial chair on Monday.

Other Stars in the National Galaxy.

☞ We observe a project is on foot to divide Texas into two States—one to be called Texas, the other Austin—and to admit them both as such into the Union. In addition to this, it is quite probable that Iowa will ere long become a member of the National confederacy. Equally probable is it that Territorial Governments will speedily be established over Oregon and Nebraska—to say nothing of the ultimate admission of Wisconsin as a State sovereignty.

Latterly the subject of a union of the Cherokee and Choctaw Indians, with a view of establishing a Territorial Government over them, is attracting some little attention. The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser says:—Under this head the Albany Argus adverts to the progress of civilization among the Choctaws and Cherokees, and the anomalous relations they hold with the U. S. Government, and suggests the propriety of organizing them into a territory, and, after a suitable probation, admitting them as a State. The united population of the Choctaws and Cherokees, says the Argus, "nearly equals the number of people requisite for admission as a State; and at first it was thought best to bring both "nations" together in this way, rather than attempt the erection of each into seperate territories, with reference to future State rights, under our federal system. But the increasing numbers of the Choctaws, and other considerations which may be imagined, will induce that people at least to seek for separate admission as a "territory," in the confidence that they will possess adequate population when the time arrives for asking admission as a "State." Indeed, it is already understood that formal application will be made to Congress, in furtherance of this policy on the part of the Choctaws. And it may be presumed that the Cherokees will not be backward in preferring similar claims, seeing the contest they have long maintained for independence as a people."

The Advertiser continues:—We see no impropriety in adopting this policy; indeed, if we rightly remember, at the time when it was determined to remove these Indians to their new homes west of the Mississippi, it was urged; among other things in defence of that measure, that such a result should follow. The Choctaws and Cherokees may not be so conversant with the conventionalities of fashionable life as some of their white neighbors, but in all the essential elements of civilization they are fully on a par with the people of most of the Southwestern States, and have shown themselves more capable of maintaining sound republican institutions. No where in the Southwest are the rights of persons and property better guarded and protected than among the Choctaws and Cherokees, no where is justice more promptly and impartially administered, or better provision made for the education of the people. In many respects the constitution of the Cherokees indicates a higher degree of civilization than that of any State in the Union.

Why should not such a people that has thus shown its capacity for governing itself, that has maintained peace and good morals within its bounds, that has secured the benefits of education to all, and has in every respect, although contending with oppression and wrong, steadily made progress in all that ennobles a nation—why should it not be admitted a State? An act to that effect would be honorable to them and us. It would be the first great step toward repairing the countless crimes that we, as a nation, have been guilty of in our treatment of the Red Men, and most earnestly do we hope that the application, the Argus says it will be made, will prove successful.

More Trouble.—The Secretary of the Treasury has issued a very important circular relative to the operation of the Revenue laws arising out of the annexation of Texas. Those greedy speculators who favored the project of annexation, and thereby opened upon the States a worse than Pandora's box, have discovered a new way to defraud the Government, by importing direct from foreign ports into Texas, or by exportations from our own ports into that country, with the privilege of the drawback of the duty. This evasion of our revenue laws called for some decisive action, and the honorable Secretary has come out declaring it a "shame to act so," and cautioning all good citizens against this dishonorable and illegal course.—For our part, we cannot see why those who rendered efficient service in the procuration of Texas are not entitled to any and all benefits they may realize therefrom.

The Copper Region.—The recent discoveries in the vicinity of Lake Superior, have opened a new mine of wealth, which without any other attraction, would invite the speedy population of that section. During the last two or three years considerable speculation has been going on among capitalists in that region, and we hear of several sales which have of late been made at a great profit. One man from Pittsburgh, who had invested a small amount in what proved to be a good copper district, sold out for some $15,000, and the same property has since brought three times that sum. The West is a great country.

Louisiana.—The indomitable Whigs of Louisiana are preparing themselves for a glorious victory at the approaching gubernatorial election. Delegates from all the Parishes met at Baton Rogue on the 21st ult., and nominated their candidates for Governor and Lieut. Governor by acclamation.—William Denoys and Edward Sparrow are to be the recipients of the suffrages of Louisiana's Whigs.

☞ Perfect happiness upon earth is as much a fable as unbroken sunshine, and would be as wearisome and destructive.

Wheat in the Genesee Valley.—The Dansville Republican says:—"The crop is pronounced by all to be the best that ever grew in the Valley."

☞ The New York Courier says that $3,162 of the $5,000 gold coin stolen from the proprietors of Adams' Express, have been recovered in that city by the merest accident. A colored man engaged in cleaning the Pier at Peck slip after the departure of the Champion, picked up half a sovereign, which induced him to institute a search for more of the precious metal. On taking some coal out of a cavity between two of the logs of which the dock was built, a handkerchief, an old shirt sleeve, and some canvass bags, containing the sum above stated, were found, and it is supposed that nearly or quite all of the balance will be discovered before long.

☞ An advertisement in to-day's paper announces to the good public that our fellow townsman, L. J. Farwell, has just brought into the city a most valuable culinary article, called the "Empire Cook Stove;" (Atwood's patent.) It is said to be a perfect article, and varies in numbers, to suit different sized families. "For economy, it is unequalled—for convenience, unsurpassed."—So says the advertisement—and doubtless says truly.

☞ The mammoth iron Steamer Great Britain may be considered due at New York on Friday next, as she will then have been out fourteen days. Great interest is manifested in respect to her; and her safe arrival will be regarded as going far to settle the question of the adaption of iron vessels of large size to the purposes of ocean navigation.

A Choctaw Territory.—We see it stated that Pichlin, the elective chief of 25,000 civilized Choctaws, will visit Washington next winter for the purpose of applying to Congress in behalf of his nation, for the admission of the Choctaw country as a Territory of the United States, with a Delegate to Congress. The nation is very desirous to be thus received, and we see no good reason that can be urged against it.

FROM OREGON DIRECT.

☞ The following letter, dated in Oregon, is from Col. Clyman, formerly a resident of this city, to Mr. Hiram Ross. Thinking it might be interesting to our readers, we have transferred the matter, already set up, from the Courier to the Sentinel.

"Willamet Falls, Oregon,
October 27, 1844.

I arrived here on the 13th day of the present month, having been on the way 151 days from Independence, Missouri, which was at least one month longer than were the last year's company of emigrants. This was owing to the unusual rains that fell during the first two months after our departure from Missouri.

My health is good and has been during the whole route. The health of the small party that accompanied me is also good. The last thousand miles no interruption from the Indians took place. Nor did even a shower of rain fall to lay the dust.

None of the families have yet arrived. The first most are expected to reach this neighborhood in about a week. The last range of mountains, called the Cascades, have never been passed with waggons. We were five days passing over this range of mountains, and found it by far the most difficult and fatiguing part of the journey, both for ourselves and our horses. The mountains extend to within a few miles of this place. The range runs nearly north and south. The Willamet is on the west side of the mountains. The Columbia breaks through from east to west; it has a number of dangerous passes, and two falls that cannot be passed by the lightest canoe. Our families, waggons and baggage were carried around the falls; the portages however are not lengthy.

The settlements of this Territory appear to be in a good and prosperous condition. Even the last years' emigrants some of whom have not been more than 9 or 10 months on their new farms, have plenty for themselves, and some to spare to their countrymen now on the way. Of bread, beef, fish, and potatoes of a superior kind, we have plenty. The three first mentioned articles are exported. The Brig Columbia is now freighted with wheat and flour, and will sail in a few days for the Sandwich Islands. A probable trade with the Islands is already commenced. From us they receive wheat, flour, beef, pork and lumber. In return we receive from them British, Chinese & American manufactured articles; and molasses, sugar, coffee, and rice, the growth of the Islands.

Standing in the door of my present lodgings I can count sixty-two buildings. They form the present village of the city of Oregon. Timber and number lay scattered about for more buildings, say 8 or 10. Several other villages, (one or two of them I have seen) have some pretensions to future greatness, but are quite small as yet.

The Hudson Bay Company transact nearly all the foreign and domestic trade. The Company derive great profit from the business, and at the same time accomodate the inhabitants of the Territory, who are all agriculturalists and mechanics without capital sufficient for commercial pursuits. On our arrival we found the country dry and parched. We have recently had a week of warm rainy weather. The grass has commenced springing up and looks much like your Wisconsin prairies in May. The leaves of such trees as shed their foliage are yellow and beginning to fall. The kinds shedding the leaf are oak, a species of maple, alow, box wood, hazel, elder, &c., all small and scrubby, compared to those in the States except elder and alder, which here grow quite large. Notwithstanding the ease with which the necessaries of life are acquired, I never saw a more discontented community, owing principally to natural disposition. Nearly all, like myself, having been of a roving discontented character before leaving their eastern homes. The long five-one trip from the States has taught them what they are capable of performing and enduring. They talk of removing to the Islands, California, Chili and other parts of South America with as much composure as you in Wisconsin talk of removing to Indiana or Michigan.

Almost the first man I met on my arrival, was, J. M. Weir formerly of Indiana, who served with me in the Rangers. I also hear of Lancaster Clyman, who is married and settled some 40 or 50 miles up the Willamet. I expect to see him this week. It is said that he is doing well.

You recollect the large stories we used to hear respecting the immense size and height of timber in this country. The largest timber I have seen is an evergreen of the fir kind. One tree that I measured a few days since, is six feet four inches in diameter and 268 feet long. The tree was felled with an axe last summer. The fir is of two kinds, white and red; both good for timber and lumber, and generally splits easy, making the neatest rail fences I have ever seen; it has the appearance of being durable. This is the season for sowing wheat; all the farmers are busily employed, it having been heretofore too dry to sprout the grain. The farmer can sow wheat from August until June, with a certainty of reaping a fair compensation for his labor. The straw of that sown in May grows very short which renders it difficult to harvest. That sown early and in good order grows large and long, measuring 5 and 6 feet, and in some extraordinary cases it has been known to measure 7 feet in length, with a proportionable length of head. The grain or berry of all that I have seen is remarkable for its round plump form.

The small Canada corn comes to perfection; oats likewise grow well; Irish potatoes need a fine quality and yield abundantly. The streams I am told never freeze over, nor does the snow cover the ground more than 3 or 4 days at any one time during the winter.—The open or prairie valleys are small, almost all the uplands are covered thickly with the loftiest fir. The earth is thickly covered with logs, underbrush, and the male fern called by some brakes. It grows in many places up to my shoulders, and so thick that I found it impossible in some instances to break through it.

I have crowded all I could on one sheet which I send by Mr Perkins of the brig Columbia, bound to Oahoo on the Sandwich Islands, whence I hope it will find its way by the whalers to Boston or some other port in the States. You may not hear from me again until I reach California.

JAS. CLYMAN.

Growth of Syracuse.—The Daily Journal says that—"Mr. Ford, one of the town marshals, has nearly completed his enumeration of the inhabitants in election district No. 6 comprising that part of the village north of the canal. He returns a little over 3,800. This would indicate a population in the whole village of not less than 9,500, and probably nearer 10,000. The increase in five years has been from 2500 to 4000."

"The Milwaukie Courier wonders if our Whig friends will be willing to offset Mr. Martin's Green Bay Banking against Col. Collin's Fund Banking, and say no more about it. This is a very liberal proposition, in our opinion, and one that we think our Whig friends will readily hear to."—[Telegraph.

"No you don't!" We let you off at no such rates. We are grossly misinformed if Mr. Martin is not obnoxious to the charge of gambling as well as Col. Collins, and, if we are to make an offset, let it be on the common allegation. Besides there would be no fairness in the offer even if Mr. Martin were perfectly unassailable on this score. Whatever Col. Collins' practices may have been, formerly, we are assured by those who know him most intimately, that his views and habits have exhibited a radical change in this respect for the last three years—and, this objection removed, there is scarce a public man in the Territory whose moral character is less liable to reproach than his. On the other hand your locofoco presses and loco orators have labored to poor purpose if you have not convinced the people by this time that gambling is a virtue compared with bank swindling—that a hundred professed gamsters could not possibly inflict the amount of evil on community wrought by one smooth-tongued broad-cloth-coated operator in a rotten rag mill. To this conviction there is a solemn appeal of facts to be made before this canvass is done with. Fair swapping, gentlemen; we can't trade with you unless you "talk turkey" to us at least once.

There are some plain, unpalatable, but wholesome truths packed away in the nut shell of this bank business that can't be bargained or bantered for all the old faro tables that the locos may be anxious to swap off in that way. We do not object to Mr. Martin because he once favored the establishment of a bank in Wisconsin.—That were an error he might be allowed to correct without suffering any unfavorable imputation in consequence. But the point we wish to make is, whether or not a man can use a high Legislative trust, reposed in him by the people, almost solely to get a charter for a bank where there was no earthly need of one, save to serve the interests of a set of unprincipled speculators—absent himself from his seat thro' an entire subsequent session of the legislature to superintend the subscriptions to its stock—sweats it into existence by borrowing specie, to be counted as payment on these subscriptions and then returned to the vaults of a distant bank—become its President and principal debtor—resist a subsequent legal investigation into its affairs, and finally have it blow up, leaving in the hands of innocent holders large amounts of its paper, good for nothing but to certify the sum each has contributed to his fortunes—we say we wish to know whether such an individual can turn round and present consistent claims to the vote of the people as the champion of the anti bank and anti-gambling party? If such be the case, no discord is possible to rupture locofoco harmony, and shouting "Martin and Anti-Bank" will make sweet music for the coming canvass.

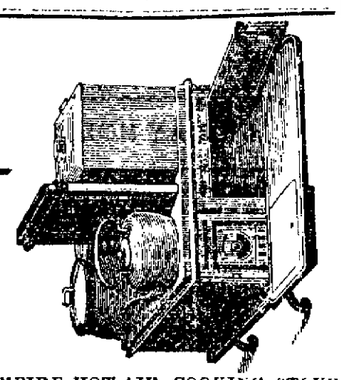

[Southport American.

The Finery of War.—Halt! Attention! Present arms! One man speaks the words, and, as if by mechanism, a thousand men obey him. Yes! Look down the column, that long extending line of red and white crowned by steel and feather—Every limb, every muscle, moved like limbs and muscles directed by one mind, and yet there are a thousand minds, a thousand wills, a thousand hearts throbbing with manhood's feelings and emotions, yet all curbed, checked, pent up, giving no outward mark of their presence more than if they were naught but so much steel and brass. It is a great thing to see machinery imitating man, lever and crank apeing muscle and sinew; but is it so great thing to see man imitating machinery, muscle and sinew apeing lever and crank? Attention! 'Tis a serried rank, compact, regular as a mathematical diagram. Legs, arms, muskets, sabres; the same lines, the same forms, the same movements, every pulse beating, every eye glancing, but as discipline ordains. Crashing past with ringing arms, and trampling horses, a whirlwind of gaudy trappings, gay plumage, and sparkling steel, a body of cavalry flies past. Their array seems more loose, but 'tis in appearance only. The trumpet is their word of mouth, and not only the men but the brutes they bestride can interpret the language. To the right, to the left; halt! Forward! rings from out the brazen or silver tube, and the docile steeds and docile men, equally well disciplined, think as little, the one as the other, of the why and the wherefore; but obey, faultlessly, mechanically obey. And then the loud melody of martial music comes ringing through the air, a spirit-moving strain! A march, a triumphant march, in all its cadences, all its burst of rich harmony, talking of glory of pomp, and lying while it talks! Why not interpret martial music aright? It might be done. An ear morally toned might hear, amid the breath of its melody, mournful wailing shrieks, such as surgeons shrink from, when the scalpel is deep in the flesh; the lamentations of despairing men and women muttered lowly; a roaring as of burning homes; and anon, when the strain ceased, like the silence of deserted hearths.—[Jerrold's Shilling Magazine.

They Come!—We observe that the whigs of several of the counties that will be closely contested this year, are buckling on their armor, and preparing for the fight. In Morgan, the whigs are organizing with great spirit; and it is also the same with Belmont, where they have called a county meeting and will give Locofocoism the hardest hunt it has had for many years. There is, from appearances, but little doubt that the whigs will carry both of these counties, which will make the legislature almost certain to us.—[Hamilton Intel.

EMPIRE HOT AIR COOKING STOVE.
L. J. FARWELL,
Roger's Block, Opposite Nebraska House,

Now offers to the public this approved Cook Stove, of different sizes, to suit small families, or large Boarding Houses or Hotels. The high character which this Stove has obtained wherever it has been introduced, is a guaranty of its excellence. The complete success which has attended the introduction of hot air into the oven, and other improvements in the construction of the Empire Stove, justify him in warranting them to bake equally as well as a brick oven, and to perform all other operations in cooking with 50 per cent less fuel than any other cooking stove now in use.

An examination of the stove will ensure its sale, and a trial of it fully realize all reasonable expectations. aug 14

PROLAPSUS UTERI.

THIS troublesome disease is cured by the use of Hull's Uterine Abdominal Supporter; from the many certificates in its favor we select only the following of Doctor Ashwell—After its successful trial in Guy's hospital, the following certificate was handed to Dr. Hull's London Agent, for public use:—

13 Devonshire Square, London, Mar 17, 1838.

"Having tried Dr. Hull's instrument for the cure of Prolapsus and Procidentia Uteri, I am glad to express a highly favorable opinion of its utility. In a severe case of entire Procidentia, lately under treatment at Guy's Hospital, it was applied with marked success. Its great superiority over the pessary consists in its affording efficient support to the weak neck abdominal integuments, and in its external application, instead of its introduction into the vagina. I quite think it will accomplish a permanent cure better and more quickly than the pessary. SAMUEL ASHWELL, M. D.

Obstetric Physician, and Lecturer to Guy's, London.

Sir Astley Cooper, after the apparatus had been several months under his inspection, gave the following opinion for publication:—

"This apparatus is beautiful for its simplicity; it is an acquisition to practice. The principle of its operation is quite original and perfect. I shall advise its use, and make use of it in my own practice, in preference to anything I have seen."

The above valuable instrument can be found at the Medical store of the undersigned, who is the agent for the sale of the same in Wisconsin. A. F. CLARKE,
